This book aims at helping the beginners to understand the basic concepts of Graphology. It will also give an insight into how this powerful science can help identify the personality traits through the pen strokes within seconds.

Preface

My heart is filled with gratitude towards the science of Graphology and especially my heartfelt thank you to my mentors, who enabled me to understand this beautiful journey of the world of handwriting.

This science cannot be understood just like any other science. You need to have a human touch and a flair for understanding people and may be helping them out. This book will help you to understand the basics of Graphology, which will enable you to fathom the depth of this amazing life changing science. I have presented only the fundamentals and important basic concepts in this book. This will be the right beginning for any common man to understand self through the handwriting. I personally started experiencing the divine powers of this beautiful science in my own life and that's when my real journey and my quest for the truth began. I was amazed to see how accurately and in a simplified way our handwriting answers the most important questions of our life. Ever since then I have given my life completely into this science. I sincerely believe that each one of you is surely going to penetrate deeper into this science after understanding the basics through this book.

I appeal to one and all to value and understand the deep insides that our handwriting can give about our personality. Over the years I have come across a number of instances where people have asked about the benefits of this science, some of whom also felt that as they are from a technical background or due to their age they don't use handwriting any more so this science is of no use to them. I want to highlight that as handwriting is brain writing it has nothing to do with our academic background occupation or our age. The minute a person writes its just like we standing in front of the mirror which does not distinguish between who we are, what we are or what we do. As the mirror simply presents us the real picture, similarly our handwriting which is our unique font no matter how much we write is the true scientific mirror of our subconscious mind. I feel proud to say that this fact has been accepted by people across the globe.

I sincerely hope that this book turn out to be the stepping stone towards your personal transformation.

Thank you,

Pradeep S. Kirpalani

Limitations of Graphology

Handwriting does not reveal ...

- Age
- Gender
- Caste/ Religion
- Nationality
- Right / left Handedness
- Future of a person

Principles of Graphology

1. Balance in Analyzer's Mind :

- Analysis must not be done with incomplete knowledge.
- One must avoid to Analyze if he/she is not completely in his senses.
- If a person is under the influence of any kind of Alcohol then he should not do the analysis.
- Avoid doing analysis of near and dear ones, as you might be prejudiced.
- Never do the Analysis with the intention of impressing others.
- Avoid doing personal analysis in public.
- No foul language to be used while doing Analysis.
- You need to be compassionate.
- Ideally don't point out the graphological strokes /patterns and trait names while doing an Analysis.
- One must not predict the future through the handwriting.

2. Principle of Enhancement:

- This principle is based on the fact that every human being has strengths as well as weaknesses. As per this principle if a number of traits and patterns reveal that a person is positive , his positivity is enhanced and conversely if a number of strokes show negative characteristics then the personality turns out to be on the negative side.

3. Principle of Dilution:

- Continuing the above principle if a person has a fair combination of positive as well as negative traits then either of the two can be diluted by the presence of the other.

Renovision Management Consultants

4. Principle of Exaggeration.

- As we all know exaggeration means blowing up a particular situation or fact beyond proportion, in Graphology if any stroke is exaggerated that is blown up, it would mean that a person is presenting a false information or is pretending to hide the truth.
Principle of exaggeration means opposite holds true.

5. Principle of Perception:

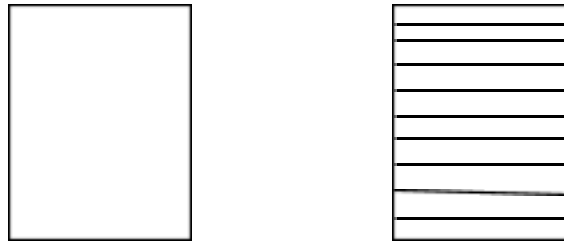

- This principle highlights the fact that we should step into the other person's shoes while doing Analysis.

Concept of Paper

A plain paper denotes 24 hrs. The way we utilize our sheet is symbolic of our utilization of time in a day and also shows our attitude towards our life span.

A plain sheet of paper talks about complete freedom and a ruled sheet talks about rules and regulations laid down on us. The overall utilization of a sheet in either of the cases reveals our attitude toward the 24 hrs that we receive every single day as an unconditional gift from Mother Nature. Plain sheet of paper reveals insecure freedom where as a ruled sheet reveals secured slavery.

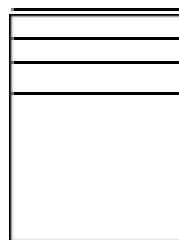

The handwriting of a person can slightly differ when he writes on a plain page or a ruled page. This signifies the difference in his behavior in a scenario where he is given complete freedom as against a scenario where he has to follow the set norms.

Utilization of paper:

1. $\frac{1}{2}$ or $\frac{1}{4}$ page utilized :

This shows the person is not transparent , he is wasting time ,he is also capable of missing out on number of opportunities, lacks self belief, might prefer to sit idle leading to being unproductive.

Renovision Management Consultants

2. $\frac{3}{4}$ page utilized :

This person is more organized and planned in his mind, he believes in being productive. In the process of being productive he also becomes more resourceful. He has a vision for the future however; he might need some help and support to travel the distance.

3. Full page utilized :

As we know that a plain paper is a bundle of opportunities, a person utilizing full page would reveal that he is very enthusiastic to make the best of all the opportunities. This person believes in being spontaneous, he would not shy away from a situation, has the confidence to keep moving ahead. This person is self assured. He has a dominating nature.

Left, Right, Top, Bottom Concept

- The left side of the page shows our attitude towards our past.

Lets understand what we mean by attitude towards past. Here we are referring to

- ❖ Place of birth
- ❖ Time of Birth
- ❖ Date of Birth
- ❖ Parents
- ❖ Our Religion, Nationality
- ❖ Our school, college, University or any other educational institution that we have been a part of.
- ❖ Our past employment/s.
- ❖ Our friends & relatives.
- ❖ Our neighbors
- ❖ All our past experiences
- ❖ Our childhood

- Right side of the page shows attitude towards the future/opportunities.
This basically shows our attitude towards day to day opportunities.
- The upper part of the page shows our attitude towards our elders, seniors & God.
It shows our attitude towards our parents and all other elders and superiors who have influenced our lives. It also shows the respect towards the addressee in cases where it is a formal communication. It highlights our formal / informal nature towards the addressee.
- The bottom portion of the page reveals our attitude towards the future.
This shows our attitude towards tomorrow i.e long term future. The way one utilizes the bottom portion of the page shows his level of confidence and mental preparation to face the future. It also throws light on feelings of security / insecurity about the future. As per the Indian culture, in males it would speak majorly about their attitude towards career and in females about their attitude towards their married life and over all family life.

Margins

Left Margin

The Left Margin basically shows the attitude of the writer towards their past. It could be their experiences from the past which has made them think the way they write.

Types of Left Margin

1. Attached Margin:

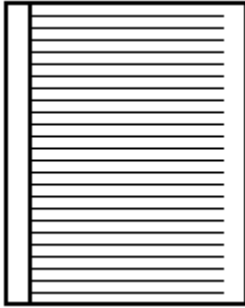

- They are attached to family, people, culture & origin.
- Will not prefer to settle outside their own country.
- They might avoid breaking relationships.
- They might stay in the same job for a longer period.
- They will not change their residence easily.
- They prefer to stay with the family.
- If in a girl, then lot of thought should be given before getting her married. She would prefer to marry someone who is known to the family.
- Growth in career can be slow due to attachment with family as they don't prefer staying away from family for a job.
- Cannot change easily – so growth and speed is slow.
- Family support is the motivating factor in their life.

Renovision Management Consultants

2. Line Of Society:

- These people are society conscious.
- They are driven by the norms of the society.
- They always think about what others will think of their actions.
- If this pattern is seen in the writing of the head of a family, the younger ones may have to sacrifice their dreams.
- The emotional bond with the family is weak.
- These people often suppress/sacrifice their desires as a result cannot live their life to the fullest

3. Zig Zag Left Margin:

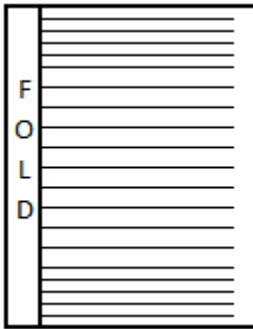

- They have a use and throw attitude
- They are selfish in a way
- They may not be reliable and trust worthy
- They do not understand the value of relations.
- They have tendencies to break the rules of the society or family.
- These writers are irresponsible.

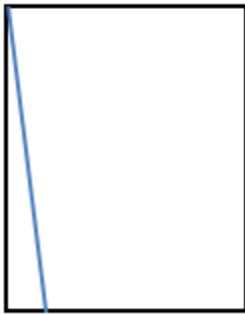

Renovision Management Consultants

4. Left Margin Fold:

- Very stubborn and rigid people.
- Often seen in the writing of people working in Government offices, Defense Forces, head of Educational Institutes etc..
- They force others to act according to the rules and regulations laid down by them.
- Family members may feel suffocated in their presence.
- People respect them at the face of it.
- These people are like a coconut, hard outside & soft within.
- Somewhere they don't want others to peep into their past.
- In the long run they might develop health issues like Migrane , Asthama , Heart troubles.
- There are high chances that they were imposed with too many restrictions by their parents.
- They might be hiding some bitter fact about their past.
- They are stubborn in nature.

5. Drift in left Margin:

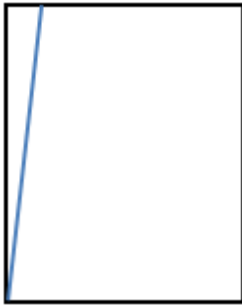

- Initially they are attached to the family.
- As time passes by the bond becomes weak.
- These people can easily stay away from the family for job or some other opportunity.
- These writers may not be reliable for long term relations.
- They may be more practical and self centered.
- Such an employee will not hesitate to resign from the job as there is no attachment with the organization.
- If seen in a child, he can comfortably stay away from parents if need be.
- They will not bother about other's feelings.
- Such people would prefer to have a job that requires travelling and touring.
- If in a girl she would be comfortable getting married to a person who stays away from her origin.
- These writers can face loneliness in the long run.
- If in a youngster / teenager he might prefer to spend more time with his friends than family.

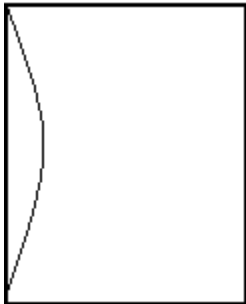

Renovision Management Consultants

6. Reverse Drift in Left Margin

- This is exactly the reverse of the left Margin drift.
- Such people are not attached to the family initially but as time pass by the attachment towards the family increases. The emotional bond is strengthened gradually.

7. Concave Left Margin

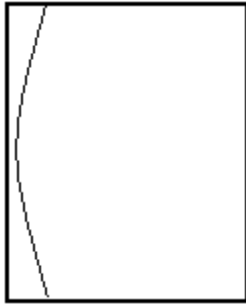

- Initially we notice a strong bond with the family.
- Gradually there is a detachment due to some negative actions, arguments, etc.
- Over a period of time due to some realizations the writer drifts back to the family.
- As seen in films, a happy ending.
- Emotional bond is not strong with the family.
- This person experiences a phase of detachment with near and dear ones.
- However this could lead to permanent detachment if there is intervention of others or influence of others.
- This can also indicate a lack of belief and faith on self , family or country.

Renovision Management Consultants

8. Convex Left Margin:

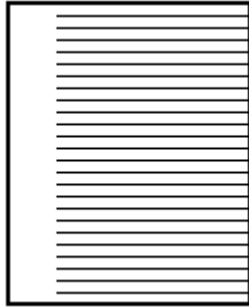

- There was a detachment in the beginning due to some reason.
- Slowly this person gets attached to the family for a temporary phase.
- Due to some wrong perceptions can again move away from the family.
- The magnet of attachment and emotional bond is not strong enough.
- Not reliable for a long term relationship.

Renovision Management Consultants

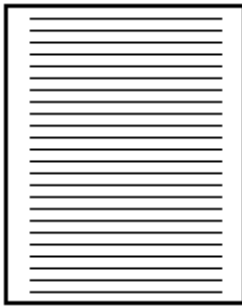

Right Margin

Attached Right Margin:

- They don't leave any opportunity.
- They are blind risk takers .As a result, some endeavors can give good results, however these can be washed out due to some disastrous decisions.
- Such a person has the tendency of putting all the eggs in one basket.
- It shows an impulsive approach towards goals/ opportunities.
- More often than not he will end up saying a YES where he should have said a NO.
- They are very adventurous.

Incomplete Right Margin:

- This person has a fear of Failure.
- He is very skeptical about any new opportunity.
- He fails to see the brighter side of life.
- He prefers to stay in a shell, playing safe there by taking no risks.
- His near and dear ones might be dissatisfied with him in the long run.
- He is a follower.
- He might experience stagnation in the long run.

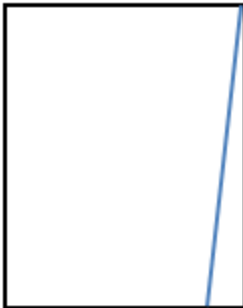

Renovision Management Consultant

Zig Zag Right Margin:

- He takes calculated risk.
- He has a mind of his own.
- He will consider the pros and cons before plunging into any activity.
- He has a clear motive of making Profits.
- He has enterprising skills.
- He has a vision for the future.
- He is more realistic/ practical in his approach towards opportunities.

Drift in Right Margin:

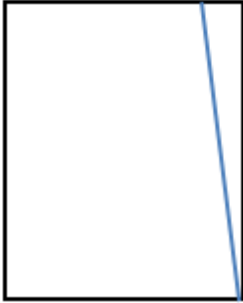

- He starts with lot of zeal & zest.
- Initially he is optimistic about the future.
- Chances of facing some obstacles / failure which have an over bearing effect on him.
- These hindrances can dent his confidence beyond repairs, there by leading to him being a timid personality.
- It's a shame as a potential winner & talent is wasted in the long run, as he could not bounce back.

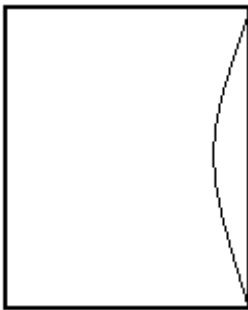

Renovision Management Consultants

5. Reverse Drift:

- This person has a lot of Inhibitions in his mind.
- A good opportunity which gives an impetus to him to make a kick start can do wonders to his confidence in the years to come.
- This is the person who musters lot of energy through one positive outcome and carries the momentum all along.
- Here is a personality that started weak however; one Philip made him an achiever in the long run.
- This person gains confidence with the passage of time.

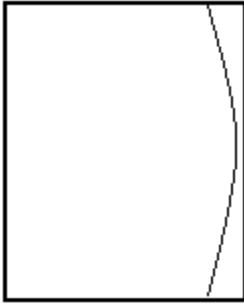

Concave Right Margin:

- This person starts well. However, due to some failure, in the process ends up losing confidence.
- He does not give up due to those failures and has enough fire in the belly to bounce back.

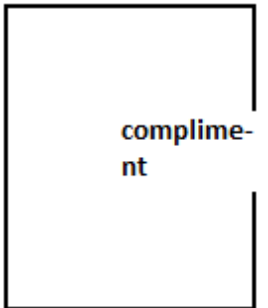

Convex Right Margin:

- Initially such a person does not have enough of inner strength to move ahead with the opportunities
- However some good opportunity / contacts can help him succeed.
- This success is not long lasting as he is not capable of creating new opportunities or developing new contacts to sustain, hence his inner weaknesses are exposed.
- Here we have a personality which was basically weak inside and experienced a passing phase of success.

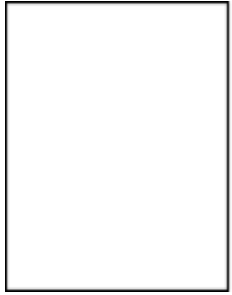

Hyphen Right Margin

- This person has a tendency to start a project with lot of positive energy and leaves it unfinished for someone else to complete it.
- This can be a dangerous personality trait as we cannot count on him due to his incapability to complete the action.

Crushed Right Margin:

- This type of Margin shows accident prone tendencies, it could be a physical/emotional/financial/sexual accident in nature.
- They fail to notice the obvious and end up banging their head against the wall.
- They are very impulsive, they do things in a rush of blood.
- Their actions can be devoid of organized thinking.

Baselines

Definition: Baseline is an imaginary line drawn beneath any word or statement.

Baseline reveals target orientation or you can say your attitude towards your targets.

Types of Baselines

1. Almost straight Baseline:

After my B.E I would like to do job first. I would like to be in technical field for 1-2 years and then start own business. I am not very clear about what type of business I will be doing. But I want to do the business, I will

- These people are very simple.
- They don't like to take risk.
- They are not ambitious.
- They have a very cautious approach towards their targets.
- To an extent laid back.
- They are more conventional in their approach.
- They prefer a slow and steady approach towards targets.
- They lack the fire in their belly.
- They look out for financial security for self and family and once the security is achieved they don't push themselves to achieve something extra ordinary.
- They are firmly grounded which acts as a strength as well as weakness for them.
- Their commitment level can be higher, as they are attached to their roots.

Renovision Management Consultants

2. Rigidly straight Baseline.

Handwriting is a major tool of communication even in this email & SMS world. However how many of us have ever given a thought to understanding the science behind handwriting ??? Through our training you will.

for the ~~past~~ past 4 years.

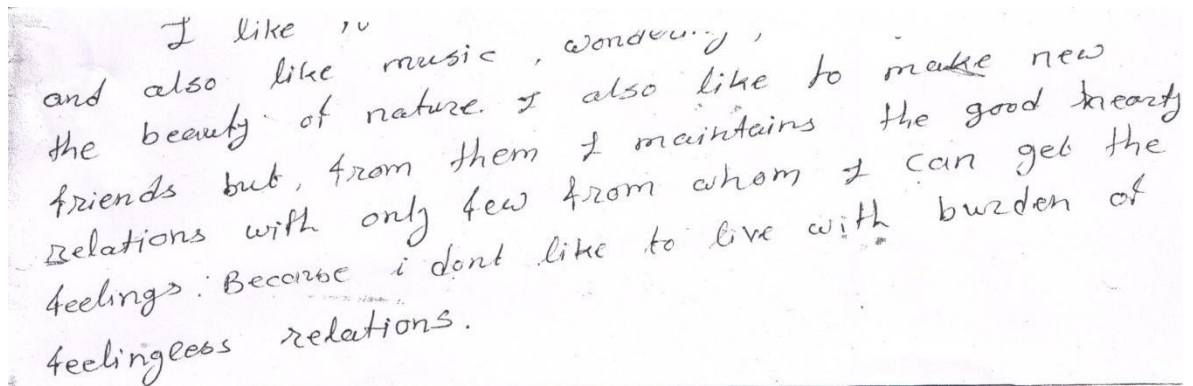

- They people are ambitious.
- They always prefer giving a better lifestyle than their past to their family.
- They are gutsy performers
- They are willing to test themselves.

Renovision Management Consultants

- They are potent enough to do something unconventional and succeed in that.
- They have a vision for the future.
- They hate being complacent or having complacent people around.
- They don't fret or worry in a stressful situation.
- They are optimistic.
- They see an opportunity in every challenging situation.
- They are capable of converting their pain in passion.
- They can motivate through their actions, hence capable of being good leaders.
- They have a positive masculine attitude.
- They have the exuberant in any project they take up, be it life itself.
- They are Oozing with confidence.
- They have an attitude which helps them winning over any ailment/ health issues.

4. False ascending:

I like to
and also like music, wandering, the beauty of nature. I also like to make new friends but, from them I maintains the good hearty relations with only few from whom I can get the feelings. Because I don't like to live with burden of feelingless relations.

- They are over ambitious.
- They can't accept defeat.
- They are irresponsible and unreliable.
- There is a complete lack of planning in their approach towards goals.
- They just try to prove a point to others and in the process they take the unreasonable route towards success.
- They are restless souls.
- They are mentally weak.
- They don't think before taking actions.

5. Descending Baseline:

Hi! I am Aash. It's really fun visiting this funfair. We all are enjoying over here. All the stalls and games are very interesting.

- They have depressive tendencies.
- They are pessimistic.
- It's almost impossible for them to bounce back.
- Very high chances of failure.
- Their pessimistic attitude disturbs the vibrations.
- They don't have the guts to face the reality.
- They have a blaming attitude; they are capable of blaming their destiny.
- They are not potent enough to hold on and enjoy success for a long time.
- This type of attitude through a parent can develop many psychological fears in child.
- They need some external/ professional help to bounce back.

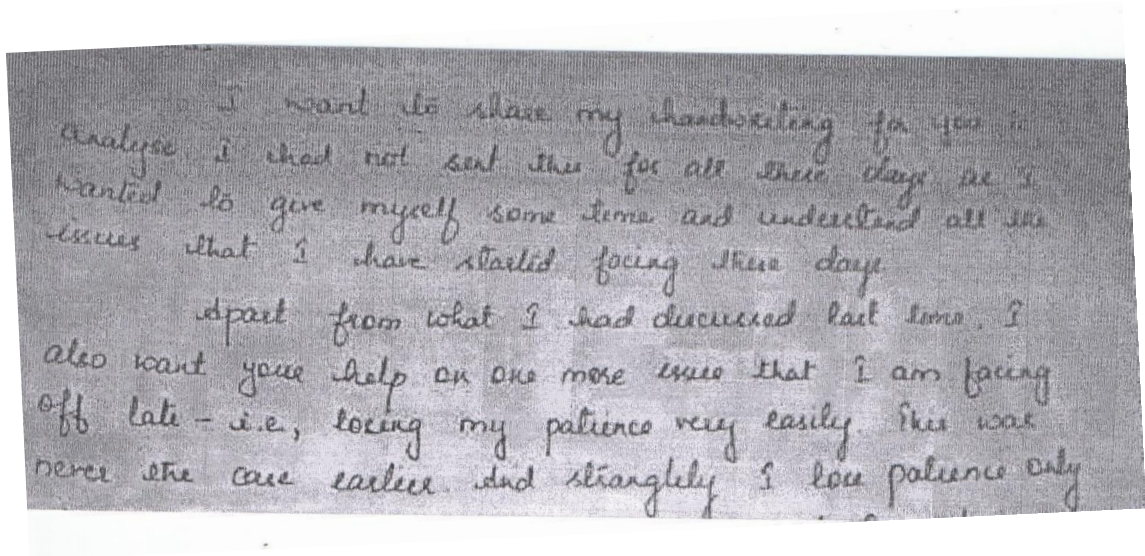

6. Wavy / Bouncy Baseline:

I love travelling my best past time is watching discovery and I love to innovate various dishes.
The best moment to be grabbed from it is my therapy. I would love to live in the best and beautiful way every moment so let's live and let live.

- They keep changing their plan of action very frequently.
- They are not focused.
- They can keep changing their goals.
- Very high chances of them being over pampered or completely neglected in their childhood.
- It is very easy for them to get distracted or disoriented from their goals.
- They show a bubble like enthusiasm initially which does not stay for a long time.
- They can take other people's time, money and effort for granted.
- Frequent and abrupt change of occupation is very much possible with such writers.
- Unreasonable mood fluctuations are also seen in such a person which affects their performance.

- They have a very casual and immature approach towards goals , if they are a part of a team then this attitude of theirs can disturb the entire team's performance.
- They justify negative actions.
- They are directionless.
- They can be Jack of all and master of none.

7. Concave Baseline:

- These people bounce back after a shock.
- They have a casual approach towards their target, as a result initially they dip. Such people have a tendency of bouncing back on hitting rock bottom.
- Such a person, due to his casual approach ends up wasting a lot of time and energy in his life in this entire process of dipping and bouncing back.
- It has been noticed that this writer usually does not have a strong influence of the father figure.
- They are not the achievers, though they complete the task.
- They will need some external support to pull them out of that low.
- They are not really reliable for anything that requires a matured and steady approach.

7. Convex Baseline:

Television is an invention we could only hear on our radio - sets about happening in far of places Now we can see them actually happening. Television is a matchless means of entertainment. We can sit in our homes and watch in our television - screen plays, films and dances and games and sports of all kinds. India is a Country consisting of 22 states and a Union territories each one of them having a proud cultured heritage. At present we have a Network of about 168 televisi.

- Such a person more often than not, ends at the same level from where he had started.
Eg...If he was born in a middle class family and got married to a rich girl, he might experience a financial high using her. Such a person will come back to square one, the minute she is out of his life.
- Such writers experience momentary success which is not earned by them.

Spacing

Space refers to distances and gaps. With respect to handwriting we can refer to 3 types of natural spaces between

A. Any two consecutive words

B. Between any two consecutive letters

C. Between any two consecutive lines.

Let's understand what the specific spacing reveals.

Word Spacing reveals the emotional and non sexual physical closeness that we maintain between our self and any other person.

Letter spacing reveals the personal space that we give to our self for personal routine activities.

Line spacing reveals time gap that we maintain between any two consecutive activities in a day/ life. In other words line spacing reveals our time management.

Types of word spacing:

1. Narrow word spacing :

Handwriting Pressure

Handwriting pressure shows depth/intensity of emotions

To verify the handwriting pressure one can roll the fingers on the reverse side of the page, on rolling the finger you can feel the indents.

If the indent is felt only on the reverse side of the page, where the written matter is present it shows the person has written with a medium pen pressure.

If the indent is felt on the successive pages, that shows a person has written with heavy pen pressure.

If a person has pressed so hard that the pages have torn, that shows extra heavy pen pressure being exerted by the writer.

In case the indent cannot be felt even behind the written page, it shows light pen pressure.

If the written matter is so light that it is barely readable and there is no scope of indent what so ever behind the page, such form of writing reveals extra light pen pressure .

Handwriting pressure enhances or dilutes any other trait.

Testimonials

Hi All,

One of my biggest weaknesses was my lack of self confidence. It was so weak that I would start sweating & almost become speechless in front of a class of 8 to 10 students also. I would also forbid myself from participating in any social or college functions due to fear of failure. It was not that I didn't have the potential, it was just that my self confidence was low. Because of my low self confidence I could not communicate things to my superiors & colleagues & this attitude of mine slowly started affecting my performance at my work place. This is where I came across the science of Graphology & met Pradeep Kirpalani. The results were fantastic. Not only did I gain confidence at my workplace but it also helped me to improve my relations.

Hi!! Friends,

The science Graphology helps us to understand our self, relations, our attitude towards life. It helps us to overcome the obstacles of our life and regain the power of unconditional acceptance. Graphology tells you what we are and Renovision grooms us the way we should be. Pradeep Sir not only teaches Graphology but also helps us to make us the best possible human being. Renovision is creating the awakening in people about the power of Unconditional Acceptance.

Hi Friends,

Through Graphology training, I learnt that the most important thing is to walk in a positive direction. A positive action or thought, or a correct state of mind will inevitably bear fruits, even if it takes time. I learn to accept myself the way I am and let go off the ideas of how I 'should be'. In Renovision, acceptance and love is given freely with no conditions, no strings, or if....then clauses.
